

UTOPICS

EDITOR(S): Simon Lamunière

AUTHOR(S): Chris Sharp, Daniel Birnbaum, Liam Gillick, Nicolas Bourriaud, Simon Lamunière, Stéphanie Moisdon

CATEGORIES: Anthologies & Art Theory, Art Theory, Books

SPECIFICATIONS:

English

Publication: July 2009

ISBN: 978-3-03764-056-2

Hardcover, 220 x 160 mm

Pages: 160

Pictures B&W: 25 / Color: 181

Price: CHF 48, EUR 30, GBP 23, USD 45

A GLOSSARY

This publication examines the spaces, nations, and communities created by artists or individuals to develop alternative modes of living. Throughout history individuals have continuously developed systems based on a mix of reality, fiction, and mediatization, create micro-nations, or fight for their existence. All these proposals are simultaneously real and utopic. By inventing identity signs (IDs, flags, constitutions, currencies, etc.), by practicing their beliefs (be it through dance, naturism, terrorism, or collectivism), and by working on the boundaries of reality (parallel worlds, isolationism, new territories, etc.), these proposals are challenging our definitions of normalcy and territoriality. The title "Utopics" is itself the free contraction of utopias, you, topic, topos, and pics.

Conceived as a glossary, the book includes artists such as Le Bélier, Carsten Höller, Clemens von Wedemeyer, Fabrice Gygi, General Idea, Lang/Baumann, Matt Mullican, Mai-Thu Perret, NSK (Irwin), Peter Coffin, Steiner & Lenzlinger, Superflex, as well as initiatives such as La République Géniale (Robert Filliou), State of Sabotage (Robert Jelinek), micro-nations, L'Ecole de Stéphanie, etc.

Published on the occasion of "Utopics," summer 2009, Bienne/Biel, in collaboration with the Luma Foundation.